101-DEGREE MARK MONDAY SETS RECORDS

The mercury rocketed to a sizzling 101 degrees Monday afternoon at The Gettysburg Times weather station and set a handful of heat records.

It was by far the hottest day thus far this year. The previous high was 94, a mark reached several times earlier in the summer.

OLD RECORD STANDS

It was the hottest August 20 since continuous records were begun here 59 years ago. The nearest approach to Monday's mark on that date came in 1914 with a high of 99 degrees.

But Monday's high did not come close to the all-time high for Gettysburg of 105 degrees. That peak was reached twice within the period covered by local weather records—on August 6, 1918, and again on July 21, 1926.

The low Monday night was 70 degrees, making it one of the hottest nights of the summer but not the hottest. On the morning of August 7 the low was 73 degrees. The relief overnight may have resulted from the storms that swept over many sections of the state Monday evening.

This morning's light shower and a few drops of rain at noon today added up to two-hundredths of an inch and brought this month's total rainfall to only 0.65 inches, about a third of normal.

DARRAH CITES INVENTION AS CHANGE MAKER

At a meeting of the Rotary Club Monday evening in the Lamp Post Tea Room, W. C. Darrah, associate professor of biology at Gettysburg College, spoke on "The Effects of Invention." "With the tremendous amount of change, talk of moon shots in the 60s and visits to Venus in the 70s," he said, "we become almost inured to change but we cannot tell today what tremendous changes might be in the making as a result of what has been invented within the last few years."

"By going back into history we can see the strange and wondrous ways in which an invention can bring about events that are completely unforeseen by the inventor."

"As an example look at this cardboard, punched full of holes. A man named Joseph Marie Jaquard, in Lyons, France, invented it in 1804."

WORKED IN WEAVING MILL

"He had been a 'drawboy' in a weaving mill. At the time it took months for a man to make a tapestry on a loom. Each thread had to be weighted with a two-ounce weight. The drawboy had to lift the threads every few seconds, lifting a total weight of from 100 to 400 pounds. Jaquard evolved the idea of using a series of heavy cardboard cards with holes in them. Where the needles could go through the holes, they grasped the threads and pulled them into the tapestry. Where there were no openings the needles could not go through. By first drawing the proposed tapestry and then setting up a series of cards with holes through them so only the needles desired would go through in the proper order, machines could not only make tapes but they could be reproduced in quantity with all exactly alike. At the same time the drawboy would not have to work 14 hours a day lifting the heavy weights."

"His idea worked so well that France declared the idea a national asset and would not permit it to be exported. France became (Continued On Page 2)

U.S. Debt Now $300 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The national debt has risen to over $300 billion for the first time.

As of August 15, the treasury announced Monday, the total public debt was $300,132,610.51.

That is about $1,600 for every man woman and child in the country. The per capita debt figure, however, is well below the World War II high of nearly $2,000 because the population has increased faster than the debt.

The debt now is subject to a temporary limit of $308 billion. This will drop to $305 billion next April 5, to $300 billion June 25 and to $283 billion — the permanent ceiling — next July 1.

1 UNEMPLOYED WOMAN GIVEN AID IN AREA

Roland W. Kime, case worker for the Adams County Board of Assistance, reported at a board meeting Monday evening at the offices on Chambersburg St. that the only unemployed person receiving assistance in the Littlestown area is a 64-year-old woman. He said she has never worked away from home and receives a partial assistance grant to supplement a small Social Security check because her husband had qualified for Social Security.

In the local area, he added, several families now on assistance have difficulty finding suitable housing, "chiefly because the maximum allowance for rent is too low."

The current case load was reported by the executive director, Mrs. Donald Myers as 563 cases with 1,079 persons receiving the aid. The number is 37 cases and 132 persons less than the number receiving assistance at the comparable period one year ago.

MISS BERTON REPORTS

Miss Leaneor S. Berton, Harrisburg, field representative for the Department of Public Assistance, outlined plans for an inter-county board meeting with Franklin and Fulton counties October 2 at Gratiot Inn. She also told of several counties which have completed a classification of the persons receiving assistance. By intensive work with families, more is learned about their problems, financial, health, marital and others, she said. When the real needs of the families can be learned, remedial steps can be taken to make them self-supporting and thus affect a saving of tax money, she said.

Approval was given for Mrs. Myers and Mrs. James E. Parry, supervisor, to attend the Northeast Regional Conference of the American Public Welfare Association at Philadelphia September 11-14.

Chairman Allen S. Stauffer presided at the meeting.

AID FOR CANADIAN

John Lindsay, Ontario, Canada, called borough police Sunday stating he believed he had lost a movie camera while in Gettysburg August 4. Borough police, inquiring about the matter at various restaurants and museums, found that the Varsity diner had been looking for the owner of an 8-millimeter camera since August 4 and was glad to find the address of the owner.

Berliners Jeer U.S. Troops

West Berliners, protesting death of a East German youth felled by Red guards while trying to scale the Communist-built wall to freedom, jeer American soldiers patrolling the wall near Checkpoint Charlie. An undercurrent of anti-American feeling, rare in West Berlin, arose because U. S. troops failed to aid the youth who lay bleeding for nearly an hour before Red guards took him to a hospital where he died. (AP Wirephoto by radio from Berlin)

BOY INJURED IN '60 CRASH GETS DAMAGES

Settlement for $3,500 of a trespass action brought in connection with the overturning of a Hoffman's Home pickup truck August 1, 1960, was approved by the Adams County court Monday afternoon.

The suit was brought by Gerald Kingsford Wagaman and his father, Vaughn Wagaman, Fayetteville R. 2, against George W. and Agnes Hoffman Orphanage and Ronald Gaylor, Littlestown R. 1.

Gerald Wagaman, now 18, suffered multiple lacerations of the scalp and nose, abrasions of the right shoulder, a compound fracture of the right elbow and a lacerated nerve when the truck, driven by Gaylor enroute to the home with a number of youngsters from a swimming party, overturned.

FILL ELECTION BOARD

The settlement came after the court received testimony from Dr. Gerald Doo, local surgeon, concerning the injuries to the youth and from the parents of the youth and young Wagaman himself.

The settlement for $3,500 provided $563.50 for physicians and hospital expenses and $2,936.50 for the youth himself. The agreement provided for the Franklin County court to name a guardian for the youth to receive the money.

Mrs. Monica Bennett was appointed by the court to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Regina C. Miller as inspector of elections in Bonneville. The appointment came on receipt of a petition from Bonneville residents asking the appointment and a letter from Mrs. Miller resigning the post.

A decree of incorporation of the Heidelsburg Area Civic Association Fire Co. as a nonprofit corporation was signed by the court.

BOARD TO MEET

Here's Proof Taxes Are Up

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —

The federal government picked up more tax dollars from the 23 eastern counties of Pennsylvania last year than it collected from the entire United States in 1930, the Internal Revenue Service says.

Federal taxes for the entire country amounted to only about $3 billion in 1930.

Hook said collections in his district increased $140 million over the previous fiscal year.

He said income taxes amounted to most of the total — $2.19 billion, an increase of $15.7 million.

Carlisle Salesman Indicted By Grand Jury On 2 Charges; Other Indictments Reported

CAR WITH 3 IN ROLLS TO EDGE OF DEEP QUARRY

A 24-year-old Hampton mother suffered lacerations of the face while a Hanover man had severe injuries of an arm when a car and a station wagon collided at 3:10 o'clock Monday afternoon and overturned two miles north of Hanover on the Cross Keys Rd. at the Bethlehem Steel quarries.

State police said the accident occurred as Carroll F. Boyer, 42, of Hanover, was driving south in a station wagon owned by E. E. Riddle Appliance, Hanover.

Mrs. Betty E. Hall, 24, Hampton, with her small son and daughter as passengers in her car, was also driving south.

ACCELERATOR STUCK

Mrs. Hall told police the accelerator of her car stuck and her vehicle overtook the station wagon ahead striking it in the back. The front bumper of the auto locked with the rear bumper of the station wagon and both vehicles went out of control.

Moments later the station wagon was on its top on the one side of the highway and the car was on its side along a guard rail on the other side of the road. Spectators said that had the heavy steel guard rail not been there the car would have dropped into the 150-foot deep quarry.

All were removed to the Hanover Hospital where Mrs. Hall was admitted as a patient while her two children were found to have no injuries. Boyer was also admitted to the hospital.

Police said both cars were demolished, estimating the loss to the station wagon at $1,100 and to the car at $150.

STATE TRUCK IN CRASH

The accident was one of two investigated by state police Monday afternoon. At 4:05 o'clock they were called to an accident at the intersection of Franklin St. and W. Middle St. because a state highway vehicle was involved. Police said Ivan W. Bechtel, 47, Gettysburg R. 5, driving a state highway truck, had stopped the vehicle on Franklin St. for the stop sign.

After the truck had halted, Betty Jane Smith, 37, Gettysburg R. 1, also driving south on Franklin St., stopped her car behind the truck. When a car sought to enter Franklin St. from W. Middle, Bechtel tried to back his truck to permit the incoming car to make the turn more easily and the rear of the truck struck the hood of the car causing $150 damage to the latter vehicle, none to the truck.

Crack Train Smashes Car Grinding Seven To Death

didn't see the car coming, "but I felt it hit and saw sparks flying from the front of the (train) engine."

He said he was traveling 40 to 45 miles per hour. The victims were identified tentatively from papers found on them and in the car as all from California:

Joe Kendall Donnell, 22; his wife, Dixie Lee, 19, and their children, Kathleen, 2, and Kendall, 1, of La Puente; Stanley Earl Peacock, 19, and Madonna L. Finlay, 18, both also from La Puente, and Wanda Carol Boatwright, 18, of Rio Linda, Sacramento County. The auto bore a South Dakota license registered, sheriff's deputies said, to a Mike Bollinger of Timberlake, S.D.

James A. Conners, Carlisle R. D. advertising salesman, was indicted on two charges of cheating by false pretense by the Adams County grand jury Monday afternoon.

The indictments were among a dozen handed up by foreman Harold Streett. The jury also found "not a true bill" in three cases.

At the arraignment which followed the report of the jury Miss Marian Fuhrman, Carlisle attorney, asked that Conners' arraignment be continued "until tomorrow or at a later date to be determined by the court to give the defendant's Philadelphia counsel an opportunity to be present and examine the bills of indictment to study and advise Mr. Conners. We have not received copies of the bills of indictment and we did not know in advance of the plans for an arraignment here today. In fact I learned of it only by accident."

ARRAIGNMENT FRIDAY

The court granted continuance of the arraignment until Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Deputy Clerk of Courts Kenneth Johns told the court that Conners had been sent a notice of the arraignment to be held Monday afternoon "and since the letter was not returned by the post office he must have received it."

Conners is charged by Paul W. Wolf, York Springs, and Alford L. Shull, Latimore Twp., with securing amounts for advertising in a proposed telephone book cover.

The grand jury found "not a true bill" in a charge brought against Margaret R. McDermitt, Abbottstown R. 1, by her husband Carl H. McDermitt, New Oxford R. 1, of driving a car without the consent of the owner. At the same time the jury returned "a true bill" on the indictment against McDermitt of assault and battery brought against him by his wife. The jury also directed that McDermitt should pay the costs of the charge he had brought against his wife. The court gave him until Friday to pay.

VOID TWO CHARGES

Also "thrown out" by the jury by returning "not a true bill," were two charges against Frederick O. Altice, Aspers. One was an assault and battery charge brought against him by Arthur H. Altice. The jury found that Arthur Altice should pay the costs in the case. The other was a charge of operating a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner brought by state police. In throwing out that case the jury placed the costs on the county. Arthur Altice was given until Friday to pay.

True bills were found against Jack K. Watson, Shippensburg, on a charge of driving while under the influence; against Glenn D. Hake, Red Lion, charged with larceny, and against Albert V. Redding, Hanover, on a charge of assault and battery brought by his father, Wilbur V. Redding. The young Redding entered a plea of (Continued On Page 3)

SIR WINSTON RETURNS HOME

LONDON (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill went home from the hospital today to the cheers of his countrymen.

The old warrior waved a big cigar to the throng outside Middlesex Hospital where he had spent 54 days recovering from a broken hip.

He broke his hip in a fall in his hotel at Monte Carlo June 28 and was flown back to London the next day.

Sir Winston was brought out of the hospital in a carrying chair. Sitting up, he was smoking the cigar. He was placed in an ambulance which took him to his home in Hyde Park Gate in London's Kensington district.

A large crowd waited for him there too.

Both when he left the hospital and 15 minutes later when he reached Hyde Park Gate, a big cheer went up. Some perhaps were a bit disappointed that the wartime prime minister did not flash his famous V-for-victory sign.

At the Churchill residence in Hyde Park Gate a ground floor suite was fitted out for Britain's elder statesman. Into it went a set of parallel bars on which Sir Winston will practice walking.

The household staff prepared a quiet lunch for Churchill and his wife.

Friends said Sir Winston is anxious to return as soon as possible to the Riviera where he was vacationing June 28 when he fell in his Monte Carlo hotel room and broke his left thigh.

Churchill was flown to London the day after his fall, and surgeons pinned together the ends of the fractured bone. During his hospital stay he developed pleuritis, a bronchial condition and jaundice but weathered all of them.

Since his premature birth on Nov. 30, 1874, he has survived numerous illnesses and accidents.

Ike Eyes Return To Second Home

CULZEAN CASTLE, Scotland (AP)—Tanned and smiling, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said today his Scottish holiday was so successful he would like to return for another in a couple of years.

But he hinted he might have too talk Mrs. Eisenhower into coming back since she does not enjoy flying and that curtails their travel plans a bit.

Eisenhower talked with newsmen in the stone-flagged hall of Culzean Castle.

Eisenhower said he regards Culzean Castle "as a second home." The people of Scotland gave him an apartment there for life in appreciation of his services in World War II.

Eisenhower met newsmen shortly before leaving for Belfast. He will travel from Belfast to Dublin where he will have lunch Wednesday with Irish President Eamon de Valera.

Eagles Barroom In Harrisburg Burns

HARRISBURG (AP)—Fire swept the 200-foot barroom of the Fraternal Order of Eagles here today.

Fire Chief Robert M. Houtseal said smoke from the blaze routed about 90 guests from the new Plaza Hotel next door to the club. Nobody was injured.

Houtseal said damages amounted to "several thousands of dollars."

The fire began about 7 a.m., and bottled up rush-hour traffic along Market St. of workers headed for jobs at the state capitol and other places.

The Eagles building is located at 429 Market St.

Houtseal said damage indicated the fire originated at one end of the bar. Its cause was not determined immediately.

Witnesses said the plane veered off the runway at a 30-degree angle, plowed through a thick, 4-foot-high reinforced concrete wall and across a road, and plunged into the bay.

Two engines were ripped off before the plane stopped in deep mud and about 15 feet of water some 50 yards from shore. The tide pulled the wreckage about 500 yards farther out.

Salim Nairi, one of the passengers, said the plane's right wing was on fire when the aircraft hit the water.

One rescuer said he recovered five bodies from the submerged wreckage and pulled so many other persons to safety that he lost count.

Panair said 75 passengers boarded the plane in Rio and seven in Sao Paulo. The remaining 10 presumably boarded in Buenos Aires a spokesman said.

Forty-five attended the meeting at which President Clark Smith presided. He announced that next Monday Donald X. Sullivan, Orrtanna, will speak on "A County Airport."

Vice President Rev. A. Robert McAskill introduced the speaker.

The rise on average resulted from a good showing by a selection of market wheelhorses which outweighed losses. It was an unconvincing advance, however, and brokers noted that profit taking was evident following a rise in five of the past six sessions.

Wedding

Bedessen-Haenn

The marriage of Miss Anne Haenn, Washington, D. C., daughter of Mrs. George Haenn and the late George L. Haenn, R. 1, to Nicholas Bedessen, Washington, D. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bedessen, Chicago, was solemnized in St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church Saturday morning at 7 o'clock. Rev. Fr. Joseph P. Kealey was the celebrant of the nuptial mass and conducted the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. George F. Eberhart was the organist.

The bride wore a white organza gown, simply made with princess lines, and a lace mantilla imported from France. She carried a corsage of white daisies and ivy.

Miss Lynn Conroy, Pittsburgh, was the maid of honor. She wore green organza with lace panels and carried yellow daisies and ivy. The bride attendant, Miss Michaelene Sweeney, Elmira, N. Y., wore a dress identical to that of the maid of honor.

Don Duderau, Chicago, was the best man and John Doherty, Washington, D. C., served as usher.

Following the ceremony luncheon was served at the Hotel Gettysburg for the out-of-town guests from California, Florida, Texas, New York and Washington, after which the couple left on a week's wedding trip to Ocean City, Md. Upon their return they will reside at 724 Irving St., Washington, D. C.

The wedding was a quiet event due to the recent death of a bride's father, whose last request was that their plans be not postponed.

The bride graduated from DeLone Catholic High School and from Seton Hill College, Greensburg, in the class of 1954. She was alumni secretary at Seton Hill and for the past three years has taught English at St. Anthony's High School, Washington. The groom served in the radar division of the U. S. MUD COLLEGE REUNION HELD

The eighth annual "Mud College" reunion was held at the Little Red Schoolhouse, along the Littlestown-Gettysburg Rd., Sunday. Former teachers, former pupils and friends of the school attended. The schoolhouse is being preserved for posterity by the Crouse family.

Samuel Conover, Westminster, president, was in charge of the meeting. John H. Riley, principal of the Rolling Acres Elementary School, Littlestown, was the speaker. His subject was comparing "The School of Yesterday with the School of Today."

Teachers present, each of whom spoke briefly, included Amos Snyder, Dauphin County; Mrs. Carrie Benner, Chester; Charles Little, Littlestown R. 1; Mrs. Naomi C. Schwartz, who is currently a teacher in the Rolling Acres School; Herbert Miller, Gettysburg; Ray Epley, New Oxford; Glenn Patterson and his wife, Kathryn Conover Patterson, Hanover. Mrs. Alice Snyder, Gettysburg, also spoke briefly.

A letter was read from Dr. G. Willis Hartman, now 90 years old, now residing in New Cumberland, who taught at "Mud College" from 1877 to 1888. In his letter, Dr. Hartman reminisced that the school opened in 1800 and was properly named "Pleasant Grove," but was nicknamed "Mud College" due to the muddy soil conditions. He congratulated the pupils who attended the school which never had a million dollar jointure but her record stands and proclaims that her product in graduates has not been excelled by today's graduates stepping from glamorous buildings, produced by vaunted modern methods. Her proud alumni became clergymen, lawyers, medical doctors, merchants, politicians, bankers, homesteaders, mothers and teachers. All pupils were taught to recognize the importance of truth and integrity and the definition of wisdom which is: "the fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom."

Officers elected at the Sunday gathering were: President, Herbert Crouse, Hanover; vice president, Amos Snyder, Dauphin; secretary, Ray Epley, New Oxford; treasurer, Glenn Bowers, Littlestown R. 1.

Awards were presented to Howard Snyder, 82, the oldest pupil present; Mrs. Charles Sentz, Littlestown R. 1, the youngest pupil present; Mrs. Carrie Benner, Chester, person traveling the greatest distance.

President Mobbed By Bathers

President Kennedy went for a swim in the ocean behind his brother-in-law's home in Santa Monica, Calif., and was almost mobbed by hundreds of bathers. Many, fully clothed, followed him into the water. He was good-natured about it and shook hands with as many as he could but the secret service almost panicked. Bill Beebe, Los Angeles Times photographer, who made this picture, went into the water fully clothed to get the picture. (Los Angeles Times Copyright, 1962, via AP Wirephoto)

Dentler Family Reunion Is Held

Forty-five descendants of the late Hiram and Sarah Dentler and their families met at the former Heidlersburg schoolhouse where many of the family had attended school.

Many of the family who gathered for the reunion also attended Heidlersburg UB Church services Sunday morning where C. H. Dentler, DeLand, Fla., was guest teacher for the adult classes in the Sunday School. That was the church many of the Dentlers had attended. Meeting in the schoolhouse that is now a fire hall and meeting place for Scouts of the community, the family ate dinner and enjoyed an afternoon of fellowship.

Among those present were members of the families of five children of Hiram and Sarah Dentler. They included Mrs. Josie Dentler Miller, York Springs; Miss Margaret Dentler, Fayetteville; W. L. Dentler, Shippensburg; Mrs. Ella Dentler, Chronister, Chambersburg, and C. H. Dentler, DeLand, Fla. There was no formal program.

Littlestown GIRL SCOUTS PLAN FOR FALL

All local Girl Scout troop leaders, assistants, troop committee members, prospective leaders and all other interested persons are invited to attend a backyard cook-out at the home of Mrs. Carroll E. Arter, 170 W. King St., on Wednesday at 6 p.m. Arrangements are in charge of Mrs. Charles E. Ritter, neighborhood chairman; Mrs. Edwin W. All those attending are to take along their suggestions for activities and information about crafts with which they have worked successfully.

The annual summer outing of the Ladies' Aid Society of Redeemer's United Church of Christ was held Sunday at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Higinbotham, Marsh Creek Heights. Approximately 25 persons, Aid members and families, were in attendance. Boating and horseshoe pitching was enjoyed during the social afternoon. A picnic style supper was served. There was a vesper service in the evening in charge of the pastor, the Rev. Glenn Flinchbaugh, and included a meditation, prayer and group hymns.

Mrs. Edward B. Geiman, Aid president, announced that the next regular meeting of the society will be held on Tuesday, September 11, at 7:30 p.m. in the church social hall. The hostesses will be Mrs. John W. LeGore, Mrs. Hamilton C. Walker and Mrs. Claude Reichart.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

New Pipe Organ: Recently a new pipe organ was installed in Zion Reformed Church, Arendtsville, which adds greatly to the appearance of the interior of the church, as it will add to the enjoyment of the service. The organ was built by M. P. Moller, Hagerstown, and cost $1,300, half of which Andrew Carnegie paid.

Fine Canning Plants: The plant of the Musselman Canning Company at Biglerville has been remodeled, new machinery installed and the capacity increased. The factory at Gardners is a model apple canning plant with a daily capacity of 1,000 bushels of peeling apples. The cider mill is equipped with two modern hydraulic cider presses and a 25 h.p. engine. In addition to peeling apples, cider apples will also be handled. The power house is equipped with a 150 h.p. boiler. About 125 persons will be required to run to full capacity.

Double Corner Stone Laying: The corner stone of St. Paul's Reformed Church, New Oxford, was laid recently. Before the sealing of the cornerstone a metal box was placed in the niche. It contained copies of the Reformed Church Messenger, Christian World, Reformed Record, New Oxford Item, financial statement of the congregation for the year 1911, names of building committee, pastor and church council, architect, contractor and workmen; also coins of various denominations of the year 1912. The prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Charles Wehler, Frederick; Rev. C. W. Baker Jr., New Oxford, read the Scripture; addresses were made by Dr. Wehler, Rev. N. J. Roth and Rev. A. S. Dechant, Hanover; Dr. W. A. Korn had charge of the cornerstone laying and the benediction was pronounced by the Rev. S. P. Manger, Hanover. The cornerstone was cut and donated by Lough and Son, proprietors of the New Oxford monumental works, and the metal box was made and donated by H. B. Fair, a tinsmith of that place.

Following the laying of the cornerstone of the church, the cornerstone of the new school building of the parish of the Immaculate Conception Church, New Oxford, was laid by Bishop Shanahan, of the Harrisburg diocese, and was witnessed by hundreds of people. The rector of the church, Rev. Fr. Shields, was assisted in the ceremonies by a number of clergymen of the diocese. An address was made by the Bishop.

Dr. Edgar A. Miller, Baltimore street, left for Pittsburgh where he will take up his work as a resident house officer on the staff of the St. Francis Hospital. This newly built hospital has a capacity of nine hundred beds and a large out patient service.

Uncanny Funeral: One of the most weird funerals probably ever held in Southern Pennsylvania took place about 8 o'clock Monday night, at Valley Chapel, Berwick Township, near Biting Station. The funeral was that of Cornelius Hugh, the laborer who was struck and instantly killed by a stone truck at the Biting quarries. The remains arrived at the burial ground in a plain pine coffin but when the pallbearers were ready to lower the box it was found the grave was too small. The coffin was placed to one side while the diggers, a mixture of foreign and American "knights of the road," former companions of his at the quarry, enlarged the grave. The place of burial was in the corner of a large clover field, adjoining the chapel, there being no graveyard at that place. When the coffin was again tried, it stuck fast half way down and the united ef-

ESSENTIALS
In this throbbing world we so often lose sight of those essentials which largely contribute to our happiness and peace of mind. First, it is essential that we all work, that we do something useful. The idler is never happy, and he is forever getting into trouble. Work is the medicine of health and contentment.

Friends are essential. Show me a happy being and I will show you a man or woman with friends. And that person will prize those friends above everything else that he or she possesses.

Health is essential though there are those, who are among the marvelous characters of this world, who do not have this gift. For the most part the human body is so constructed that it stands an unusual amount of punishment, before it finally balks. But the essentials of outdoor air, exercise, plenty of sleep, good, plain food, and a cheerful frame of mind do much to keep health where it should be.

A love of beauty is essential to a well rounded life. Those who carry beauty in their heart show it in their faces. Their entire being thrills at every instance of this beauty in the out-of-doors, and in everything created by human hands. To surround oneself with beautiful things is to fortify oneself against many a dark and discouraging moment, or crisis.

A full mind is essential. I am often reminded of a friend who, in his youth, became a great student of Shakespeare. I sat at his bedside during a serious illness, when my friend was past 70, and he recited for hours some of the great passages from the great poet's work. And he put feeling and understanding into all that he quoted. I thought then of how he had fortified his mind against dull and lonely hours.

To love is also essential. He who has not this tender gift within his being is one of the most unfortunate of this earth. Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Your Generating Power"

Just Folks

YOUTH
The old are tiring at their tasks
Behold their slowing pace!
This busy world forever asks
Fresh youth for many a place.

Onward the generations come
With sure and certain stride,
When age finds duty burdensome,
To keep the ranks supplied.

Behind the leaders, one and all
Their young successors stand
Waiting and ready for the call
To manage and command.

However great or strong there's none
Who, if but turn he will,
Can see the youngster coming on
Who soon his place will fill.

Oh boy, be patient and prepare!
Some day if well you do,
Gladly an older man out there
Shall give his post to you.

forts of all the men present were required to dislodge it. Again everyone got busy and when the box was tried for the third time it was found that the grave was too shallow and as there was a layer of solid rock at the bottom the men refused to attempt digging deeper. At last the undertaker, who was the only man present who did not lose his nerve, suggested that the remains be placed somewhere and the funeral held the next morning. The "minister," who is engaged at manual labor, then announced that he was afraid he could not attend the funeral the next morning as he would be too busy. So about nine o'clock it was decided to have the services then. The writer will never forget that scene, about 30 of the dead man's former "pards" with their working clothes on, heads uncovered, some with picks in hand, leaning against the fence—it was surely grotesque. One of the number lay at the foot of the grave asleep. A gigan lantern from a neighbor's house furnished the light. After the service all returned to their homes and the next morning the men again began their work and, with the undertaker directing, made the hole big enough for the box.

BIRMINGHAM CONFERENCE ABOUT STRIKE

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—Contractors affected by a strike that has plagued Redstone Arsenal a week plan to meet with lawyers in Birmingham today to take stock of the situation.

H. W. Pearce, president of the North Alabama Contractors Association, said Monday night 10 or 12 contractors would meet.

"Redstone Arsenal has put a lot of pressure on us," he said. He indicated concern over a statement last week by Paul Styles, industrial relations officer at the Marshall Space Flight Center, that contracts could be canceled if the contractors didn't perform.

STRIKE ON OR OFF?

National Labor Relations Board officials are trying here to determine if the strike is on or off. Carlton Bryan, director of the NLRB's Birmingham office, said representatives are investigating to see if a federal court order is being carried out.

That order, issued Friday night by U.S. District Judge Clarence W. Allgood, restrained an electrician's union from picketing for five days.

There were no pickets Monday, but for the most part construction remained idle because only some of the workers reported.

Allgood set a hearing for Wednesday, fifth day of the injunction, to decide whether the injunction should be extended.

TSHOMBE HAS WEEK TO ACT

By A. I. GOLDBERG

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Acting Secretary-General U. Thant has given Katanga President Moise Tshombe a week to 10 days to accept a new U.N. program to unify the Congo peacefully.

If Tshombe rejects the overture, Thant announced Monday night, he will ask all U.N. members to turn the economic screws on Katanga and quit buying Katangan copper and cobalt. There is considerable doubt that Belgium and Britain, two of Katanga's chief customers, would comply.

Thant's program calls for adoption of a federal constitution to be drafted in the next 30 days, agreement to share the royalties from Katanga's rich mines with the impoverished central government, currency unification, and integration of Katanga forces into the Congolese army in 90 days.

Thant called for member governments to bar all unauthorized movements of mercenaries or any military material to the Congo.

He said Robert Gardiner, his chief representative in the Congo, has been instructed to present the program to Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula and to Tshombe.

PARMA, Italy (AP)—The steel carrier of a dump truck flew up and struck high tension wires as the truck was crossing the main railroad line between Milan and Bologna Monday night.

The resulting short circuit knocked out power all along the line until well after midnight. The truck driver was not hurt.

Boy Badly Hurt At Air Force Academy

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—The canopy of an F86 jet fighter blew off Monday while two youngsters were playing on the display aircraft at the Air Force Academy.

James Gillen, 14, was sitting atop the Plexiglas canopy when a companion accidentally fired a detonating device in the cockpit.

The explosion hurled Gillen against the aircraft. He suffered a skull fracture and was in critical condition at a hospital here.

Robert L. Freeman, 14, escaped harm. Maj. Gen. Robert H. Warren, academy superintendent, ordered an investigation to determine why the canopy device had not been removed or disarmed.

TV EPISODES CHANGE NESS FOR FALL SHOW

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—When intrepid Eliot Ness and his "Untouchables" shoot their way back on the nation's television screens this fall, we may have a difficult time recognizing our hero.

Over the summer, they've been busy humanizing Eliot, who, if you remember, was a hard-eyed, humorless zealot relentlessly pursuing evil-doers of the 1930s, mostly bad 'uns connected in some way with Frank Nitti.

According to authoritative reports, during the vacation period, Ness' long feud with Nitti quietly came to an end. In fact, it is probable that we won't ever see or hear again that big, burly gangster chieftain.

SHIFT FOCUS

"In the new shows there probably won't even be any one villain," whispered an ABC stooge who knows the inside picture. "They are going to start telling stories through Ness' eyes, from his viewpoint."

This is going to mean quite a few changes. For one thing, Ness, who apparently never had a home life but just lived in his office and existed on cardboard-flavored coffee and drugstore sandwiches, is soon to acquire a wife. We will not see her, according to the plan, but Ness will occasionally take time off from tracking down wrong-doers to telephone home.

Most drastic of all, the changes mean that we'll see our Eliot as a living, breathing human with faults and imperfections instead of an epic figure of righteous vengeance.

EVEN FRIGHTENED

In one forthcoming episode, he will be so frightened by an explosion of a hand grenade that he'll suffer a case of psychosomatic blindness — "Even though they didn't know what to call it

URGES EFFORT TO GET VOTE OUT IN PENNA.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania business and civic leaders were urged Monday night to join together in forming a special nonpartisan committee designed to get more people to vote.

The plea came from Gov. Lawrence at a special meeting to deal with the problems of falling registrations.

"I have become increasingly disturbed by the reports given me of the number of citizens who are not registered to vote and are throwing away the most priceless privilege of self-government," Lawrence declared, adding:

The governor noted that there are 1,817,993 eligible voters not registered in Pennsylvania.

FUNDS COME LATER

"The latest figures show an alarming increase of more than 300,000 unfranchised Pennsylvania citizens in just two years' time," he said.

"It is especially important that the proposed committee seek nonpartisanship as its central philosophy," he said. Its members may have political differences, their economic attitudes may vary and their philosophies of government may be greatly divergent—but the committee itself, if it is to succeed, must have no partisan axes to grind whatever.

"And, although the committee will undoubtedly feel the need for funds in the future, it seems to me that we need give no thought to that problem now."

"Since only four weeks remain in the registration period, it is not likely that any large-scale program on the part of the committee, itself, can be contemplated."

No Trace Of Boy, 3, Who Disappeared

ISLIP, N.Y. (AP)—Long Island State Park police—theorizing that a love-starved woman may have taken a 3-year-old boy from a park—have asked the public for any clue to such an abduction.

The search for Stephen Papoi continued in the 1,600-acre Heckscher State Park, where he had been on an outing with his parents and eight brothers and sisters. The boy has been missing since Sunday afternoon.

Outlining the abduction theory Monday, Police Sgt. Gil Senan said: "We've pretty well covered the area. That's about the only possibility left, unless he went into the water."

The blond, blue-eyed boy with crew-cut hair was last seen in a play area about a quarter-mile from the beach.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Paul M. Chalfin, who handled some of the city's biggest court cases in the 10 years he has served as first assistant district attorney, has resigned to enter private law practice. The resignation, announced Monday, is effective the first week in September.

"Since only four weeks remain in the registration period, it is not likely that any large-scale program on the part of the committee, itself, can be contemplated."

SHAKEUP ON POLICY SEEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—An agency set up by President Kennedy to promote more equal job opportunities for Negroes is due for a policy shakeup Wednesday.

It is expected to concentrate under one man both compulsory and voluntary efforts to end employment discrimination.

An outsider called in to assess the group's work. New York Labor arbitrator Theodore Kheel, has reportedly recommended that while Kennedy's committee deserves a cheer for accomplishments so far it still can do a great deal more.

There has been considerable secret conflict within the committee and organizations dedicated to promoting equal rights for Negroes over the wisdom of two courses of action.

One is centered on terms of Kennedy's executive order requiring that firms doing business with the government should be held strictly to contract requirements that they will conduct their employment, promotion and other job practices without discrimination because of race, creed, color or national origin.

The second course contemplates that firms can be enlisted in a cooperative employment practice improvement program.

HARRISBURG (AP)—A total of 243 Pennsylvanians will be called into active duty this October, representing the state's quota in the national draft call for 4,000 men. The call was announced Monday by the state's Selective Service headquarters.

Reds Beat Dodgers In 10th On Grand Slam By Robinson; Giants Beaten

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

There are those who were at Crosley Field, who'll tell you Frank Robinson's homer gave the United States another satellite. And there are those who'll tell you Gene Freese's single was a line smash too hot to handle.

It just isn't so.

But there's no denying that the events of the Reds 7-3, 10-inning victory over the National League leading Los Angeles Dodgers Monday night would stimulate the imagination of any Cincinnati fan.

FREES KEY MAN

First, there was Freese. Making his first start since he fractured his right ankle in a spring training accident, the hard-hitting third baseman raced home on a weak leg with a key run in the seventh inning and drove in the tying run with a ninth-inning bloop single to center.

Then, there was Robinson. Continuing his torrid belting, last year's Most Valuable Player came up with the bases loaded in the 10th inning and cracked a towering shot that sailed over a 50-foot screen in left field for the game-winning.

For Robinson it was his 17th homer in 25 games dating back to July 27. Since then he has hit two homers in one game four times, tagged three grand slams and accounted for 35 runs batted in.

GIANTS LOSE AGAIN

The victory moved the third-place Reds back to within 3½ games of the first-place Dodgers, who maintained a 3½-game edge over second-place San Francisco. Milwaukee walloped the Giants 9-4.

In the only other games, Pittsburgh swept a doubleheader from the New York Mets, 2-0 and 6-3, and Philadelphia whipped Houston 7-1 in the first game of a scheduled two-nighter. The second game was postponed due to rain. St. Louis and the Chicago Cubs were idle.

At Milwaukee, Warren Spahn (13-11) gave up four homers—two by Orlando Cepeda and one each by Harvey Kuenn and Felipe Alou—but allowed only two other hits and won the 322nd game of his career. The Braves' ace left-hander is only four victories shy of tying Eddie Plank for the most triumphs by a southpaw in major league history. The Braves won it with a five-run outburst in the seventh inning, when Tommy Aaron's homer off Don Larsen (4-3) breaking a 4-4 tie.

FRIEND WINS OPENER

The Pirates won the opener as Bob Friend (14-11) allowed the Mets only four singles while Pittsburgh got to Jay Hook (7-14) for an unearned run in the fifth before Smokey Burgess put it out of reach with a seventh-inning homer. Bob Skinner paced the Pirates in the nightcap, hitting a two-run inside-the-park homer in the first inning and a triple in the eighth. Al McBean (13-5) was the winner and Robert L. Miller (9-10) the loser.

The Phillies made it 13 victories without a loss against the Colts as Dallas Green (6-5) spaced 11 hits and left 12 men stranded. The only Houston run came on a double by Norm Laker and Roman Mejias' single in the third. The Phils used consecutive homers by Wes Covington and Clay Dalrymple off Dick Farrell (8-16) to pull away in the fifth.

BEAVER FALLS IS UNBEATEN

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Beaver Falls, unbeaten in three games, takes on West Lawn, unbeaten in two, in the American Legion State Baseball Tournament today.

Beaver Falls defeated Easton, 4-1, Monday. In other games, Tripp Park eliminated Roxborough, 8-7, Shady Side eliminated Mechanicsburg, 7-2, and Lansdale eliminated Emmaus, 6-1.

Terry Wogan struck out 10 for Beaver Falls and homers by Ernie Pelala and Butch Ryan provided the winning margin.

Tripp Park meets Shady Side today. Easton plays Lansdale Wednesday.

Lansdale hurler Brian Hampton defeated Emmaus with a 3-hitter, striking out 12. John Mack's 2-run triple was the big blow for the winners.

Tripp Park came from behind for its victory. Paul Dennebaum slammed a homer and Willard Hoffman, second of three pitchers, was the winner.

Shady Side never trailed as Bob Eismann struck out eight and scattered seven Mechanicsburg hits.

INJURY LIST HITS PRO GRID TEAMS HEAVILY

By JACK CLARY

Associated Press Sports Writer

Oh no, not again!

The St. Louis Cardinals may be on another injury binge today after their No. 1 halfback John David Crow—considered by many the top all-around back in the National Football League—was definitely considered out of action for three weeks with an ankle sprain.

The Cardinals, dark-horse choice to cop the Eastern Conference title this year, remember all too vividly how a broken ankle suffered by Crow in a preseason game a year ago, and then an inordinate rash of other injuries, cost them a shot at the 1961 title.

OTHERS INJURED

Crow, offensive guard Mike McGee and rookie tackle Bill Wilson all were injured in last Saturday night's 41-14 whipping by Green Bay. McGee is also out for three weeks and Wilson will be lost for six.

The New York Giants were in the same predicament today, with three more casualties to an already crowded hospital brigade. Last year, the defending Eastern Conference champions' where mostly injury immune, a factor that must favor any contending club.

The Cards are a living testimony to the fact they lost veteran offensive tackle Ken Panfil and fullback Joe Childress for the 1961 season with injuries in pre-season games. Then, in order, came Crow, halfback Prentice Gautt, defensive end Joe Robb, fullback Frank Mestnik and Mal Hammack. McGee, end Hugh McInnis, center Don Gillis, linebacker Charles Elitzky, defensive backs Larry Wilson and Pat Fisher, offensive tackle Ed Cook and defensive back Billy Stacy, all of whom missed at least one game.

Crow didn't return until the latter stages of the 1961 season when the Cards were out of the race.

Here's the way the five top sluggers stand:

Harmon Killebrew, Twins, 33 homers, 93 RBI, and 245 average; Norm Cash, Tigers, 32 homers, 66 RBI and 236; Leon Wagner, Angels, 29 homers, 87 RBI and 273; Rocky Colavito, Tigers, 23 homers, 87 RBI and 276; Roger Maris, Yankees, 28 homers, 77 RBI and 257.

ARMY DUTY

Then came Army duty for four other players and chronic arm trouble by quarterback Sam Etchberry.

The Giants are compiling a list just as long as Lou Kiriouac is out for at least eight weeks with a fractured leg, all pro defensive back Erich Barnes is out for three more weeks with a dislocated elbow, while defensive back Dick Lynch, offensive back Jim Podoley, and Joe Walton and linebacker Bob Simms are sidelined with a variety of serious bruises.

The Giants added three more in a 42-10 loss to San Francisco. Rookie guard Bookie Bolin suffered a fractured ankle and will be out six weeks, while rookie linebacker Bob Winter and tackle Greig Larsen were sidelined with bruised shoulders.

The Pittsburgh Steelers got hit hard in their loss to Cleveland. Offensive tackle Ray Lemek will be out three weeks with a fractured bone in his right knee while All America fullback Bob Ferguson of Ohio State is sidelined 10 days with a pulled hamstring muscle.

Conewago Little League

Sylvania Shoe added the playoff championship to its regular season title Monday evening by taking the third and deciding game in the three-game final series from the Moose 7-1.

The winners sewed up the contest in the third inning when they tabbed four runs on a single by Masenheimer, three errors, two hit batsmen and a pair of wild pitches.

The Moose averted a shutout with a run in the top of the sixth on an error and singles by D. Staub and Zimmernan.

Hank Aaron Gains In Batting List

NEW YORK (AP)—Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves gained the most ground among the batting leaders last week and moved into third place in the National League competition.

Aaron increased his average seven points to .342 by collecting 12 hits in 26 times at bat. Meanwhile, Tommy Davis of Los Angeles, the pace-setter, remained at .345 and Frank Robinson of Cincinnati climbed two points to .343. Davis had nine hits in 26 tries while Robinson, the runner-up, had nine safeties in 23 at bats.

Stan Musial of St. Louis tumbled to fourth at .335. He had only one hit in nine trips.

Pete Runnels of Boston continued to hold the American League lead at .330. He had 10 hits in 30 attempts.

Manny Jimenez of Kansas City remained in second place despite a three point drop to .321. The figures include Sunday's games.

AL SLUGGERS OFF THE PACE THIS SEASON

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

The way the top sluggers in the American League are hitting, who ever casts the golden headpieces for triple crown winners had better try making batting helmets.

There hasn't been a triple crown winner—No. 1 man in homers, runs batted in and batting average—since Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees in 1956. And, with the AL's most potent swingers averaging one hit every four at-bats, there isn't going to be one this season.

Here's the way the five top sluggers stand:

Harmon Killebrew, Twins, 33 homers, 93 RBI, and 245 average; Norm Cash, Tigers, 32 homers, 66 RBI and 236; Leon Wagner, Angels, 29 homers, 87 RBI and 273; Rocky Colavito, Tigers, 23 homers, 87 RBI and 276; Roger Maris, Yankees, 28 homers, 77 RBI and 257.

RUNNELS IN LEAD

Maris led the homer hammerers with 61 last year and was the leader in RBI with 142. Cash won the batting crown with a .361 average. Cash is almost 130 points lower this season and slap-hitter Pete Runnels of Boston holds the batting lead with a .333 average.

Killebrew took over the lead in the homer department Monday with a two-run shot in the sixth inning that powered third-place Minnesota to a 6-4 victory over Boston. Maris hit a three-run homer for the American League-leading New York Yankees, who lost to Kansas City 7-3 in the only other game scheduled.

MARIS GETS ONE

The Twins scored three unearned runs off Red Sox starter Don Schwall (6-14) in the first with Bob Allison stroking a run-producing double and Earl Battey driving in a pair with a single. The Red Sox battled back, finally moving ahead 4-3 in the top of the sixth on Lu Clinton's two-run homer. Then Rich Rollins singled to get the Twins started in the bottom of the sixth and Killebrew wrapped it up. The victory went to Dick Stigman (8-3) who needed Frank Sullivan's relief help over the final two innings.

Maris tagged his three-run homer in the first inning and that was all the Yankees got against Ed Rakow (12-13) and John Wyatt. The A's scored twice in the fourth before breaking it open with a four-run fifth inning explosion against Rollie Sheldon (6-3). Bill Bryan tripled in one run and scored on a double by Bobby Del Greco before Ed Charles applied the crusher with a homer. Del Greco also homered for the A's, who took the five-game series 3-2.

West Hempstead Is Champion Of L. L.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—West Hempstead, N.Y., wears the crown of Senior Division Little League World Champions today thanks to the pitching of Steve Krines and the batting of shortstop Gil Moran.

Krines pitched a 6-2 triumph over La Habra, Calif., Saturday, allowing six hits, striking out seven and walking only two. Moran hit a double, two singles and had three RBIs.

Crines against the toughest campaigners of his time.

Arcaro, who retired at the pinnacle of his career, will make his first appearance in the Charles Town area. General Manager Robert G. Leavitt said the rider will be introduced before the feature race and will present the traditional silver mug to the winner of the Iron Horse Mile.

GCC Golfers Bow From Tournament

Rod Munday, pro, and Bob Davies, amateur, of the Gettysburg Country Club, failed to survive the 76 cut off mark in the 46th annual Pennsylvania Open golf tournament Monday at Hershey when both posted 77s. Par for the Hershey Country Club course is 73.

Skee Riegel, a two-time winner of the tourney, led 50 qualifiers into today's round when he fired a six-under-par 67. Eleven other qualifiers beat par while four matched par.

JAP PLAYERS FINALLY FIND CHOPSTICKS

By JIM BECKER

Associated Press Sports Writer

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Where do you find a lot of Japanese chopsticks in a hurry in the middle of Pennsylvania? In a Chinese restaurant, of course.

That was one problem solved as eight teams were poised for the opening today of the Little League Baseball World Series in the city where the whole thing started.

One of the eight clubs in the week-long tournament is the Kunitachi, Japan, team—the eatingest, smallest and smilingest team ever to play here.

KIMONO CLAD

The Japanese lads—all are 11 and 12 years old by American reckoning, a year older by their own—came to Williamsport in gray summerweight kimono's, equipped with special food, including instant noodles—but no chopsticks.

League officials scurried around to fill the void, and found chopsticks in a local Chinese restaurant. The Japanese boys said they weren't the style they were used to, and many switched to knives and forks.

The Japanese are one of four foreign entries. The other three are from Stoney Creek, Ontario, Canada; Monterrey, Mexico; and Poitiers Post of Vienne, France.

AMERICAN TEAMS

American teams are from Kankakee, Ill. (north), Pitman, N.J. (east), Del Rio, Tex. (south), and San Jose, Calif. (west).

Action gets under way today with Pitman against Del Rio at 2 p.m., and Kankakee against Stoney Creek at 5 p.m.

The Japanese go into action Wednesday against Monterrey, after the San Jose team meets the team from France, which is composed of sons of Americans working there.

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Williamsport Grays are odds-on favorites to take the Class A Eastern League pennant, but they wouldn't know from the way they've been playing the last two weeks.

On Aug. 2 they held a fat, 19½ game lead. Today, it's down to 13½ games. And the Grays lost their 11th out of their last 15 games Monday night, 1-0, to Springfield.

John Pregoner (11-8) pitched the fine four-hitter, striking out nine. Denny Sommers drove in the game's only run with a single in the eighth.

Williamsport's Ray Culp (13-6) struck out 13 Indians, but got little support from his teammates' bats—only two singles and two doubles.

In the only other scheduled game, Elmira lefty Steve Dalkowski (6-8) pitched his second straight shut-out over the Binghamton Triplets, 6-0. He hurled no-hit ball for the first 6 1-3 innings.

The Pioneers bombed three Binghamton pitchers for 15 hits. Ray Youngdahl had five, in-

Letters To The Editor

BIG LITTLE LEAGUE BASEBALL
Gettysburg, Pa.

August 21, 1962

Editor of Gettysburg Times

Gettysburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Sir:

We want to protest the cancelling of baseball at Gettysburg High School. The sponsors, directors and managers of our league voted unanimously that baseball should be continued.

We think the Little League and Big Little League will eventually fold up if the boys do not have the incentive of perhaps "making" the HIGH SCHOOL team in the future. These two leagues are well organized and we entertain over 250 boys each summer.

We are sure this curbs boys' getting into mischief and also prevents juvenile problems.

Without bragging, in the 20's I earned 10 letters in high school sports and the most enjoyed was baseball.

Please help keep baseball at Gettysburg High School.

Yours very truly,

GLENN L. BREAM
President of
Big Little League

Sports Editor

Gettysburg Times

Gettysburg, Pa.

Dear Sir:

The Gettysburg Little League has been following with great concern and great anxiety the fate of baseball at Gettysburg High School. We feel that the athletic council's decision to drop baseball at the high school was given very little thought. Thought for the young men concerned and thought on how to remedy any of the so called "problems."

For the past 10 years, Little League managers have donated endless hours of their valuable time to work with youngsters interested in playing baseball. Youngsters who would eventually like to try to make a career of the sport. Through the years there have been countless numbers of former Little Leaguers who have been instrumental in placing Gettysburg High School in the top competitive bracket of its class.

Why does the athletic council want to defeat the whole purpose of the school's physical education program? By this we mean, why deprive a boy of playing a sport, who because of his physical structure is unable to participate in another sport, such as football? Isn't it a small segment of the purpose of a school to provide physical training for all its students?

At the same time we shout our disapproval of what you of the council have done, we would also like to offer a small solution for the "problem" at hand. As has been pointed out, Gettysburg High School is not compelled by the Blue Mountain League to schedule games within the conference.

With the many high school baseball teams in the area, why not attempt to form a baseball league with them if not just to fill out a complete schedule with these particular schools. Secondly, schedule the games for 3:30 in the afternoon or on Saturday afternoon such as other sports. By doing this, a youngster will not have to be absent from his classes.

We feel that the athletic council should give this matter a lot more thought than it has. Eliminate baseball at Gettysburg High School and you eliminate just one more opportunity for youngsters to take part in our national past time.

Sincerely,
Board of Directors
Gettysburg Little League

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates announced Monday the signing of righthander pitcher Robert N. Avallone of New York City to a 1963 minor league contract.

The 18-year-old graduate of Taft High School was assigned the Pirates' Batavia, N. Y., farm club in the Class D New York-Pennsylvania League.

NEW RADIATION RING IMPERILS SPACE FLIGHTS

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—A new and perhaps menacing radiation belt is in the atmosphere around the earth — put there, scientists say, by a United States high-altitude nuclear test blast July 9.

Little is known of the new belt except:

1. It could imperil astronauts in future space flights, and hence might cause the United States to delay its Project Mercury program.
2. It emits radio frequency signals and therefore may interfere with some radio astronomy.

PRESENCE NOTED

The presence of the radiation belt, 600 miles and higher above the earth, was disclosed by Dr. James Warwick of the University of Colorado's high-altitude observatory, in a copyright article by science writer Victor Cohn of the Minneapolis Sunday Tribune.

Dr. Warwick's comments were substantiated by Dr. James A. Van Allen, who in 1958 discovered the principal radiation belt encircling the earth.

The Colorado scientist said the effect of the Pacific high-altitude test blast last month was to greatly intensify the so-called Van Allen radiation ring.

TEMPORARY LAYER

The new ring, he said, consists of high-energy H-bomb electrons, invisible atomic particles which follow the path of the earth's magnetic equator. The Minneapolis Tribune described the new radiation ring as probably a temporary layer under the inner part of the Van Allen belt.

"By temporary," said Dr. Warwick, "I mean possibly months or it may mean five years. We are maintaining constant observation, and I hope that by Sept. 1 we may have more information."

At Southampton, N.Y., where he is vacationing, Dr. Van Allen said the new belt has "increased the potential danger for manned space flights," but detailed exploration and scientific examination is needed before the effects on Project Mercury flights can be determined.

"I don't want to prejudice the data," Dr. Van Allen said, "but the radiation is a matter of concern and it is conceivable that Mercury flights might have to be delayed."

Van Allen said the situation conceivably could lead also to delay in similar flights by Russians.

FOUND IN CANAL

MONT CLARE, Pa. (AP)—The body of Dr. Blake A. Nicholson, 65, a University of Pennsylvania law instructor since 1923, was found Sunday in a canal along the Schuylkill River in this Upper Montgomery County community.

The body was found by Harry Dewees, father-in-law of one of Nicholson's sons, in the water in front of the Dewees property.

New Soviet Test Is Reported Today

UPPSALA, Sweden (AP)—A new Soviet nuclear test was reported Monday by the Seismological Institution at Uppsala University.

The explosion, in the atmosphere, was registered at 4:02 a.m. EST and located in the Novaya Zemlya area, where the Soviets recently have been testing.

Uppsala scientists estimated the latest blast to be about 12 megatons, equivalent to explosion of 12 million tons of TNT.

STUDY PRINTS IN PLYMOUTH CASH ROBBERY

BOSTON (AP)—The discovery of additional fingerprints was disclosed Monday by one of the chief investigators seeking the bandits who took part in the nation's biggest cash robbery in Plymouth last week.

William F. White, chief New England postal inspector, told newsmen the prints were found on road signs used by the robbers to detour traffic while they emptied a mail truck of $1,351,277.

The prints were sent to FBI headquarters in Washington.

EARLIER PRINTS

Investigators earlier found fingerprints on at least one of the automobiles used in the precision-planned robbery on Route 3 last Tuesday night.

The money taken represented shipments from Cape Cod banks to the Federal Reserve Bank in Boston.

The biggest previous cash haul in the nation's crime annals was the $1,219,000 Brink's robbery in January 1960, for which eight men were sentenced to life.

NO SPECIFIC SUSPECT

White said investigators are not looking for any specific suspect by name at this stage of the investigation.

"We just don't know, as yet," he said, "who actually was involved in the robbery."

White said investigators at this time can see no connection between the robbery and a man spotted in Buffalo Sunday in a car carrying a revolver, a rifle and a submachine gun.

White said there are indications five men and a young woman were in the team which ambushed the money-carrying mail truck.

Helicopter flights, meanwhile, continued along Route 3 and surrounding woods.

HARVARD PROF URGES POLICY FOR EDUCATION

By FELIX B. WOLD

DETROIT (AP)—An educator proposed Monday that a federal commission be created to plan this government's future role in education in order to cope with immense world changes.

Dr. Herold C. Hunt, Harvard University's Eliot professor of education, questioned the adequacy of present national policy in an address prepared for the American Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO) convention.

"For too long we have charted a federal course in education without a compass," Dr. Hunt said. "Where we are going and how and by what means the government intends to get there should be the concern of every American."

NO COHESIVE PLAN

Dr. Hunt said the government appropriates $2 billion a year for 300 education programs but that a cohesive plan or policy is lacking.

He asked the teachers union to propose to President Kennedy the naming of a commission of laymen and professional educators to map a future program.

He said such a program could help meet needs of the year 2,000, when America's population will have doubled, according to predictions, and her school and college enrollment will total 85 million.

"I can think of no action this convention could initiate that would be as far reaching in significance," he said.

Dr. Hunt, former school superintendent in Chicago and Kansas City and former U.S. undersecretary of education, was principal speaker at the federation's first convention session.

Check Possibility Of GI Dividends

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Veterans Administration will take a close look at its funds to see whether a special GI insurance dividend can be declared to boost the nation's economy.

A spokesman for the VA said Sunday night that Administrator James S. Gleason Jr. had ordered the study to be completed by mid-September.

On orders of President Kennedy the Veterans Administration paid a special dividend of $230 million to policy holders a year ago in a move to pump new funds into the then sagging economy.

SENATOR RAPS U.S. READINESS IN SPACE WAR

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., said Monday the United States stands defenseless against attacks that could come from orbiting Soviet space vehicles.

By placing the major emphasis of its space efforts on scientific exploration and civilian applications, it may be offering the Soviet Union the opportunity of "an enormous and possibly insurmountable military advantage," Cannon said in a speech prepared for Senate delivery.

"I see no evidence that there is a national, authoritative intent to accelerate the earliest practicable development of urgently needed military (space) capabilities," he said.

SATELLITE DEFENSE

"Where, for example, is the necessary project to develop a means of intercepting, inspecting and destroying, if necessary, hostile satellites that could bear super megaton bombs down on us?"

Cannon, a brigadier general and jet pilot in the Air Force Reserve, said that such a development program, though advocated by the military services, has been specifically delayed by civilian officials.

"To the best of my knowledge," Cannon said, "no defense whatever exists at this time against any military attack that might be made from the space region even though such attacks are within the present capability of the Soviet Union."

Authorities Probe Derailment Causes

WATSEKA, Ill. (AP)—Authorities searched Monday for the cause of a three-car derailment of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois' Dixie Flyer which killed two persons.

A sleeper and two coaches at the rear of the Florida-bound train carrying 91 passengers left the rails Sunday and bounced along the tracks for two or three blocks.

The C&E's main line was cleared late Sunday.

The derailment occurred at nearby Pittwood, about 70 miles south of Chicago.

WILL RESUME AIR SERVICE

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Strike-bound Eastern Air Lines went ahead Monday with plans to resume full service by Sept. 13 amid threats of pressure by other unions in the strike by flight engineers.

The machinists, Transport Workers of America, all AFL-CIO members, threatened joint action against Eastern.

Airline President Malcolm MacIntyre, after announcing the planned resumption of full service, brushed off the threats saying, "I've known pressure. If the machinists strike, we would have no alternative but to get an injunction."

The airline plans to resume what MacIntyre called a full schedule on a streamlined basis with service not expected to be on the same level as before the June 23 strike.

Eastern is bargaining individually with the Flight Engineers International Association, in addition to accepting pilots' bids and outside applications to fill the engineer vacancies.

The strike, which MacIntyre said had been costing EAL $250,000 daily erupted over whether pilots or engineers would fill the third seat in the cockpit when jetliner crews were reduced from four.

American Investors Halt Rush Abroad As Reduced Growth Rates Cloud View

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The grass isn't looking quite so green on the other side of the fence to many American investors.

The rush of business investment abroad is slackening, the Department of Commerce reports. Opportunities for quick profits have lost some of their luster and political uncertainties have grown in some areas.

But many U.S. corporations have announced increases for capital spending abroad this year and a sizable number have appropriated amounts equal to last year. Totals compiled by the Commerce Department, however, show a slowdown in the buildup of overseas subsidiaries and branches.

INVESTMENTS ABROAD

This rush of investment money abroad was one of the phenomena of the 1950s. Investments abroad tripled during the decade. Foreign assets of U.S. companies grew at a faster rate than did their domestic ones.

Along with the financing of subsidiaries abroad, there was large purchasing of stock in foreign companies and of foreign bonds. All of this was part of the outflow of dollars that troubled the money managers.

Most troublesome of all perhaps was the periodic flights of short term money into other world capitals. All played a part in the deficit in payments which found its dramatic form in the drain of U.S. gold.

NOT ONE-WAY STREET

This was far from a one-way street. Foreign direct investments in this country totaled $7 billion in 1960, more than double the 1950 figure. Investments in U.S. firms increased an average rate of $350 million a year.

American investments abroad far outstripped this. It now totals more than $30 billion. The biggest year was 1957 when American companies added $3.8 billion to their investments in foreign subsidiaries and branches. The big lure was the striking industrial growth rate of Western Europe.

In 1960 investments of new money came to $1.7 billion, and $1.2 billion of retained earnings also was poured into the expansion move. Last year this had dropped to $1.5 billion of new money plus $1 billion of retained profits. The department thinks this slowdown is continuing this year.

OTHER FORMS SLOWING

It also believes other forms of investment abroad are slowing this year. These include new purchases of foreign stocks and bonds, which rose last year to $1 billion, up from $850 million in 1960; and bank loans and other short term investments, which last year rose to $1.5 billion from $1.3 billion the year before.

The reasons the foreign investments pastures look less green this year, the department says: "Reduced growth rates in Europe, unsettled conditions in Latin America and economic difficulties in Canada."

But the general picture doesn't apply to all corporations by any means. Some with a big foreign plant expansion program underway have announced the spending this year will top last year's outlay. Others have stressed that the plan to spend more overseas if Congress doesn't change present methods of taxing profits on such subsidiaries—that is, taxing them when they are brought back as dividends rather than when they are earned abroad.

Corporate plans have more than tax prospects hanging over them. The slowdown in the European growth rate didn't become apparent until recently. And perhaps this is one reason the Department of Commerce thinks investment trends may be in for a change.

REV. MEADOWS HEADS WORLD CHURCH GROUP

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Bishop Clyde W. Meadows of Chambersburg, Pa., was elected president of the World Christian Endeavor Union Monday.

His nomination was the only one presented to the business session of the union, which met during the 14th World Christian Endeavor Convention now being held in Sydney.

Bishop Meadows succeeds Dr. A. Poling of New York City, who had held the position since 1927. Dr. Poling, now 77, retired from the post because of his age.

Bishop Meadows said Christian Endeavor societies have been formed within churches of 81 different Protestant denominational groups throughout the world.

"I accept the world presidency very humbly," Bishop Meadows said. "I am following great men whom I cannot hope to match. I owe a great debt to Christian Endeavor and will do my best in the presidency."

HAS OTHER POSTS

The bishop said the meetings of the world convention had been wonderful. It ends Tuesday night.

"Attendances at the Sydney convention," he continued, "were not as great as in Frankfurt, Germany, four years ago when 14,000 to 15,000 people attended individual

U.S. MERMAIDS SMASH MARKS IN AAU MEET

CHICAGO (AP)—Seldom has the resurgence of athletic youth been so underlined than by the complete stranglehold clamped on the National Senior Women's AAU Swimming Championships by a brigade of bobby-soxers.

A pair of 16-year-olds from Los Angeles, Carolyn House and Sharon Finneran, and 15-year-old Donna DeVarona of Santa Clara, Calif., led the record-busting parade in the 4-day meet which ended Sunday in the Portage Park 50-meter Olympic pool.

OLYMPIC PROSPECTS

This trio, plus a group just as young that either won events or were pressing for first all the time, can make Uncle Sam rub his hands in glee at the women's prospects in the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo.

Five world, five American and two additional meet records were undercut in the splash party. Only two events—the 100 meter backstroke and 100 meter freestyle—did not produce record efforts.

Miss House won the freestyle titles at distances of 1500, 400 and 200 meters, repeating as individual high point performer with 26. She bettered the world mark of 19:02.8 in the 1500 with 18:44.; erased the American record of 2:15.5 with 2:14.6 in the 200, and smashed the meet mark of 4:46.9 in the 400 with 4:45.3.

FINNERAN RECORDS

Miss Finneran bypassed the listed world standard of 2:32.8 by churning the 200-meter butterfly in 2:31.2, and did the same in upsetting defending champion Miss DeVarona in the 400-meter individual medley. Her time of 5:25.4

sessions at the last World Convention. But there were 8,000 at the meeting here Saturday night, and all arrangements for the convention have been very well done."

Bishop Meadows also is president of the International Society of Christian Endeavor—the North American section of the World Union.

From 1928 to 1961 he was pastor of the King Street United Brethren Church in Chambersburg. In 1961 he was named a bishop of the United Brethren Church and assigned to eastern United States and Canada with responsibility also for the church's mission areas.

His headquarters are in Huntington, Ind., but he and his wife have kept their home in Chambersburg.

At Monday's business session Norman Klauder, a layman from the Grace Baptist Chapel at Philadelphia, was elected union treasurer.

Mrs. Ernest R. Bryan, a lawyer from Washington, D. C., was re-elected honorary field secretary.

Bronchitis Epidemic Follows Floodwaters

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—An epidemic of bronchitis broke out Monday after floodwaters swamped the jungle town of Florencia, killing 41 persons and leaving 136 missing.

A burst dam on the River Hacha, swept tree trunks and huge boulders into the sleeping town early Saturday. About 3,000 of the 20,000 inhabitants are homeless.

No injuries were reported among members of an American military mission stationed in Florencia, 250 miles south of Bogota.

Mrs. Kennedy Will Become Citizen

RAVELLO, Italy (AP) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy will become an honorary citizen of Ravello on Aug. 28, Mayor Lorenzo Mansi announced Monday.

He said the honor—a rare one—would be given to the American First Lady because she chose Italy and particularly Ravello for her summer vacation.

Town records for the past 50 years show only one other foreigner made an honorary citizen: Dr. V. Miller, Mayor of Munich, Germany, honored in 1955 on the occasion of the 100th anniversary celebration of Richard Wagner, who spent much time here.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—The first weekend on which South Africa's nonwhites could buy liquor on an equal basis with whites passed Monday without the drunken orgies and street fighting that had been predicted.

Johannesburg police said there was no unusual number of complaints.

dened Donna's world listing of 5:34.5.

Miss DeVarona won two titles, repeating in the 200-meter individual medley by blasting her own American mark of 2:35.0 with 2:33.3, and beating defending champion Nina Harmer of Philadelphia in the 100-meter backstroke in 1:10.4. Cracking the American monopoly was an "older" — Germany's 20-year-old Wiltrud Urselmann. She won the 100-meter breaststroke in 1:20.6 to better the listed American mark of 1:22.3, and matched the meet record of 2:53.3 in the 200-meter breaststroke.

The only other foreign winner was Vancouver's 16-year-old Mary Stewart. She sandbagged the world mark of 1:08.2 in winning the 100-meter butterfly in 1:07.6. Joining the U.S. "sweet sixteen" club were Ginnie Duenkel of Summit, N.J., and Robyn Johnson of Arlington, Va. Ginnie surpassed the world mark of 2:33.2 in winning the 200-meter backstroke in 2:32.1. Robyn took her second straight crown in the 100-meter freestyle in 1:02.2.

HUNGARY REDS PURGE FORMER PARTY CHIEFS

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Matyas Rakosi, Hungary's former dictator, and 24 of his Stalinist followers have been booted from the Communist party in a purge of the purgers. Karoly Kiss, regarded as the leading Stalinist still in an important position in Hungary also was demoted from the ruling Politburo.

The new purge was announced in a communique Sunday following a four-day meeting of the party's Central Committee. Janos Kadar, the party chief and premier who was jailed in one of Rakosi's purges, presided.

The expulsions from the party were ordered six years after the 1956 Hungarian revolt threatened to topple the Communist regime which Rakosi established with his boasted salami slicing tactics.

OTHERS EXPELLED

Expelled from the party along with Rakosi, 70, was Ernoe Geroe, 63, who succeeded him as the country's boss. During the 1956 revolt, Geroe followed his former chief into exile in the Soviet Union. He was allowed to return to Hungary last year but was barred from political activity.

Rakosi is believed still to be in the Soviet Union. He is reported in poor health.

His expulsion from the party was a bitter finish to a lifetime career spent in the service of communism. Returning to Hungary with the Soviet army in 1945 he took over the interior ministry and police and began a campaign of undermining his Socialist and Smallholders party colleagues in the postwar government.

METHOD CITED

His method, he said, was to "demand a little more each day, like cutting up salami, thin slice after thin slice."

The other parties eventually were ousted.

Rakosi and Geroe were expelled from the party because of their "absolute political responsibility for the miscarriages of justice based on forged evidence," the communique said. Twenty-three others dropped from the party were not named.

SULLIVAN AT MAYO

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP)—Ed Sullivan, television personality, is expected to be in Rochester 10 to 12 days following gall bladder surgery at Mayo Clinic.

Sullivan was reported getting along well this morning at St. Mary's Hospital. The surgery was performed Saturday, about a week after Sullivan arrived for a checkup.

Ike Shoots Good Golf In Scotland

TURNBERRY, Scotland (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower burned up the tough Turnberry championship golf course Monday.

The former president, will be 72 in October, scored an 86 over the 6,770-yard, villainously trapped course.

Par for the course is 73. If his handicap of 16 strokes is counted, Ike would have had a 70, or three under par.

Eisenhower and his vacation party will fly to Belfast today.

AREA HEALTH CENTERS GIVE PATIENT CARE

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—The State Health Department's decentralization program brings it in closer contact with the people and their health problems, Secretary Charles L. Wilbar said Monday.

"Area health centers, which are located in county seats, are a real convenience to people in terms of time and mileage," he said in prepared remarks.

Dr. Wilbar was one of the lead-off speakers at the 11th annual Health Conference.

STILL CONSULTANT

Through the decentralization program, under way for some time, the Health Department in Harrisburg continues to act as consultant and planner for both the area and regional health offices.

Wilbar said the county centers now house clinics for the care of tuberculosis victims, crippled children and infants.

For more specialized services as sanitary engineering, air pollution, drug or alcohol control, offices are maintained by the department in Wilkes-Barre, Williamsport, Meadville, Pittsburgh, Lewistown, Reading and Philadelphia.

Archibald Simons, supervising physical therapist of the Health Department's division of maternal and child health, said home treatment is being offered to victims of cystic fibrosis.

He added that Pennsylvania is believed the only state offering home physical therapy for victims of the disease which affects the lungs and pancreas of children.

The hard-hitting Miss Wright had a 38 on the front nine Sunday, then settled down and collected 11 pars and two birdies the rest of the way to post a one-over-par 73 and a winning 219 total for the 54 holes.

In Barcelona a bomb went off at the office of the pro-Catholic La Vanguardia, slightly injuring an employee who was raising a wooden shutter above display windows.

No one ever fell asleep at the wheel deliberately. It happens to drivers who thought they could stay awake, even though they were tired. Don't risk dozing off as you drive—you may never awaken from such a nap!

Rest stops are important for safe driving. Take one at least every three hours. Drink coffee or tea, but avoid dangerous "pep" pills. When fatigue begins, drive off the road, away from traffic, and take a nap.

If every motorist had observed these common-sense suggestions last year, 2,298 accidents, and 67 fatal accidents might have been prevented!

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

HIP TIME. A lovely writer: I have just returned from a wonderful vacation. And the memory lingers on—on my hips. I can hardly zip up my skirts. Please suggest an exercise that will trim off inches before I buy fall clothes.

For all the post-vacationers with "zipper" trouble, one of the quickest hip-reducing routines follows:

Stretch out, back down, on floor; bend elbows and rest backs of hands on floor, about four inches from shoulders. Keeping knees straight, slide left leg sideways about 12 inches; follow up with right leg. Continue moving legs at 12-inch intervals until they are at right angle to body. Then swing back to starting position.

Repeat on right side, leading with right leg. Throughout keep shoulders and upper back flat against floor. Perform entire routine 10 to 20 times. Always work for a brisk tempo and precision movement.

The test of perfect performance is two-fold. The floor should act like a massage on the back and sides of your hips. Your legs should move somewhat like the hour hand of a clock, pointing to six, five, four, three, and then to two, one, and then to the starting position.

Repeat on right side, leading with right leg. Throughout keep shoulders and upper back flat against floor. Perform entire routine 10 to 20 times. Always work for a brisk tempo and precision movement.

CALL PATROL BOAT

For 15 minutes he swam vigorously. The crowd swam with him. The Secret Service, late in catching up, watched helplessly on the beach.

The guards didn't breathe easily until a hastily summoned life guard patrol boat cruised up near the swimming President.

As he emerged from the water, the mob scene was repeated. By this time there were 1,000 persons there.

Earlier the President attended Mass at the nearby Church of the Good Shepherd. Usher Larry McHugh said the President dropped feather-light and still be hip-heavy. Reduction in the hips is assured only by exercise. For a set of quick and effective ones, send for my leaflet, HIP REDUCING ROUTINES. Write Mary Sue Miller, Box 158, The Gettysburg Times, Dundee, Ill., enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover handling.

PRESIDENT IS BESIEGED BY MANY BATHERS

By JAMES BACON

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Kennedy, weekending here, decided to take a swim in the Pacific — and was almost swamped by a throng of 1,000 admirers.

Bystanders walked into the sea fully clothed as the President strode into the ocean in front of the Santa Monica beach home of his brother-in-law, Peter Lawford.

It happened Sunday during the President's 33-hour visit to Southern California, a flying trip which ended shortly before midnight when the presidential jet took off to return to Washington, D.C.

It had been billed as a nonpolitical trip, although the President obviously helped the cause of Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown when they dedicated the $11-million San Luis Dam in central California on Saturday.

WENT FOR SWIM

The President and his film star in-law spent much of Sunday lounging by the pool of the actor's home, tossing around a football, and enjoying second helpings from the Lawfords' well-stocked larder.

The mob scene started when the President, apparently without prior warning to his security guards, emerged from Lawford's beach-front home and set out for the surf 100 yards across the sand.

The house fronts on a public beach at nearby Santa Monica. Some 100 bathers who had been waiting for hours for just such an appearance, let out a wild cheer.

The cheers brought other bathers from out of the sand, from under blankets, from everywhere. They closed in on the smiling chief executive, many trying to shake his hand. Affably, he obliged for many.

RED ATTACHE WINS TOY DOG AT GOP PARTY

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — A furry toy model of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's dog, Brumms, won't be in Soviet political attache Valeri Kravchenko's suitcase when he goes home to the Soviet Union next month.

Although Kravchenko has a young son and daughter back home, he gave back the toy he won Monday night at a cocktail party sponsored by Republican congressmen.

The Russian at first laughingly fended off reporters who tried to pin him down as to his reasons. "Excuse me, gentlemen," he said, and walked off.

BIG GOP PARTY

Later he said he didn't want to get involved in American politics. "This is some kind of Republican party," he laughed.

He was dead right—it was a party thrown by Rep. William H. Ayres, R-Ohio, the GOP publicity chairman, to make fun of Brumms' recent trips to the Justice Department with the attorney general while Kennedy's family was out of town on vacation.

The theme of the party at a private residence on Capitol Hill was "The Dog Days on the New Frontier." Along with several hundred guests, most of them from the Washington news corps, several dogs attended. Brumms was not among them.

Refreshments included liberal portions of "the hair of the dog," and plates of cold hot dogs.

2 State Senators In Congress Race

DOVER, Del. (AP) — A pair of state senators are rated as top contenders for the Republican nomination for Delaware's lone seat in the U.S. House of Representatives.

The GOP state convention convenes here Tuesday to select candidates for the congressional post and four state offices.

Current front runners in the bid for the House seat now held by a Democrat are Harvey B. Spicer of Georgetown and James H. Snowdon of Wilmington.

Incumbent U.S. Rep. Harris B. McDowell Jr. of Middletown is unopposed for Democratic renomination. The Democrats open their convention here Aug. 28.

False Kidnap Yarn Costs Gypsy $50

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Larry Thompson, 24, has been fined $50 and court costs for falsely reporting to police that his wife had been kidnapped.

Lt. Thomas Roselli said the man had told the story to gain vengeance on a rival gypsy clan.

Roselli said Thompson and his 23-year-old wife, Annie Lola, concocted a story that the woman had been abducted by two men near her south Philadelphia home and held captive in a cellar for nine days.

Thompson had maintained he met the kidnappers in an early morning rendezvous at Independence Hall and paid $500 ransom for his wife's release.

ILLITERATE MAN IS Nabbed For Forgery

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A man who can't read or write has been sentenced to two years in prison for forgery.

Judge Jack A. Falk sentenced Willie Robinson, 29, Monday after hearing testimony from Lonnie Armstrong, 37, who said Robinson talked him into drawing up a few checks just to see how it was done.

Armstrong said he thought all the practice checks were destroyed, but Robinson apparently held out a few, endorsed them with an "X" and cashed them.

Armstrong was sentenced to two years on probation.

Three Escape As Plane Is Downed

MECHANICSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A small plane, battered by heavy rains and gusty winds, was forced to crash-land in a hayfield Monday night, but the two men and girl aboard escaped serious injury.

William Staub, about 35, of Mechanicsburg R. 4, and his 8-year-old daughter, Susan, were treated for minor cuts and bruises at a hospital.

The pilot, Allen Bitner, also of Mechanicsburg R. 4, was uninjured.

The crash destroyed the single-engine plane's landing gear, part of a wing and the engine. Bitner said his engine apparently gave out during the storm.

SUE FOR SUPPORT

EBENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Non-support petitions have been filed in Cambria County Court in an effort to acquire funds under the Kerr-Mills Medical Care Act for patients at the county home hospital.

The county filed the petitions Monday against several persons for failure to pay money towards their parents' care at the home.

MAN SUICIDES AS COPS CLOSE IN ON HIDEOUT

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—State Police say Lawrence S. Johns, 28, of Altoona, Pa., shot and killed himself Monday as troopers closed in on his hideout near Hancock.

They said Johns, one of three men involved in the wounding of a trooper on U.S. 40 near Hancock, was the object of a search by about 100 policemen, aided by helicopters.

The two others, both of Harrisburg, Pa., were scheduled for a preliminary hearing today. They are James C. Lane, 34, and Robert Booker, 28. State police have charged them with assault with intent to kill and destruction of property.

WERE ROBBING PHONE

The wounded trooper, Cpl. Robert D. Kirby, was in good condition with wounds in the thigh and the right arm.

Kirby was wounded as he attempted to arrest the three men who were breaking into a telephone coin box near Siding Hill in the western Maryland mountains.

One of them pulled a gun during the arrest and wounded the trooper, but he managed to keep two of the men in custody until help arrived. The third man, Johns, escaped.

HAD POLICE RECORD

Late in the afternoon, Hancock Police Chief Howard Murfin and a security guard from the Maryland Reformatory for Males stopped at the home of Mrs. E. R. McCullough for a drink of water.

Mrs. McCullough's grandson, 9-year-old Jeffrey Lerner of Baltimore, suggested that a nearby abandoned building be checked.

The officers said as they approached the building, they saw Johns run inside the timber line and soon heard a shot. Johns shot himself in the temple.

Police said the three men, all of whom have previous criminal records, were returning from a trip to Chicago.

Sabin Vaccine Is Given In Cambria

PATTON, Pa. (AP)—Free doses of Sabin oral polio vaccine were administered to 12,835 residents of Northern Cambria County over the weekend in this community of 3,100—the site of the state's first polio fatality of 1962.

State and county health authorities conducted an immunization campaign here Friday and Saturday following the confirmation for four polio cases among Patton children.

Frederick J. Berish, 9, died of the disease on July 20. His sister, Helen Susan, 8; Thomas Larkin, 13; and Cathy Lallemond, 9, also contracted the disease.

County health authorities said before the immunization campaign began that the danger of a major outbreak had already passed.

POWER FAILS IN BROOKLYN

NEW YORK (AP)—A massive power failure in a three-square-mile area of Brooklyn Monday night left more than 30,000 homes without lights or air conditioning on a hot, muggy evening. It took more than three hours for full service to be restored.

Police blamed widespread use of air conditioners for the blackout. The Consolidated Edison Co., which is investigating gave no immediate cause.

Power failed at 9:05 p.m. and was restored gradually section by section. The last lights went out at 12:23 a.m.

Two bridges that form part of the Belt Parkway ringing the borough were caught open, halting traffic until power was restored. Traffic lights also were blacked out.

NEW HAVEN RR OFFICIAL RAPS MERGER PLAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—A New Haven railroad official predicted Monday that merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads without including his firm would end private railroading in southern New England.

Joseph Auerbach, general counsel for the court-appointed trustees of the bankrupt New Haven, made the prediction as hearings on the proposed Pennsylvania-Central merger opened before two interstate commerce commission examiners.

Auerbach said the trustees favor the merger—provided the New Haven is included.

Pennsylvania Railroad officials have suggested that the New Haven and other New England lines be consolidated into one system.

Such a system would have access, the PRR officials suggested, to the merged Pennsylvania-Central and two other big eastern Systems which would result from pending merger applications. They are the proposed Norfolk & Western, Nickel Plate and the Chesapeake & Ohio-Baltimore & Ohio.

The Pennsylvania-New York Central merger plan has already been advanced in considerable detail.

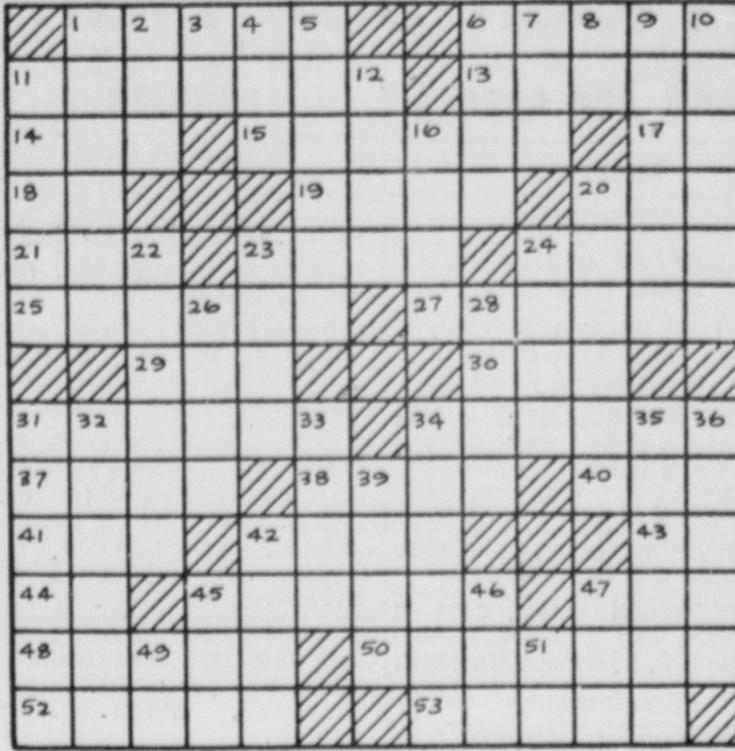

The proposal before examiners Jerome K. Lyle and Henry C. Darmstadter is creation by next year of a $5.4-million 20,200-mile rail giant known as the Pennsylvania New York Central Transportation Co.

The two carriers contend that elimination of duplicate facilities and other economies will save $75 million a year within five years. If the plan goes through the lines say they will drop 7,500 workers in the same period.

The job loss, they contend, would be low in comparison with the average 11,000 a year the two roads have let go in the last 10 years.

Opponents of the merger include the Railway Labor Executives' Association, which has expressed fear that the consolidation would result in a greater job loss than the railroads predict.

Sleepy Hollow Kirk Named National Site

NORTH TARRYTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—The old Dutch church in Sleepy Hollow, of "Headless Horseman" fame, has been designated a national historic site.

The 267-year-old native stone church, immortalized in Washington Irving's classic, "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow," has been a local landmark since Dutch colonial days.

In its Sleepy Hollow Cemetery are buried such famous Americans as Irving, steel magnate Andrew Carnegie, labor leader Samuel Gompers and auto manufacturer Walter P. Chrysler.

The main structure of the church remains as it was in 1695 except for minor alterations. The old structure has not been used regularly since 1865, when the First Reformed Church was constructed because additional facilities were needed.

Deny Venue Change In Reis Theft Case

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—A four-judge panel Monday unanimously denied a petition for a change of venue for the second trial of entertainer Lillian Reis, 33, accused of the 1959 burglary of the home of coal magnate John B. Rich.

Miss Reis is accused of masterminding the burglary which some police witnesses said netted $478,000, but which Rich himself said cost him only about $20,000. Her first trial, before Judge Charles W. Staudenmeier, ended last fall in a hung jury.

In denying the petition for a change of venue, Staudenmeier was joined in Schuylkill County court by President Judge James J. Curran, Judge Vincent Dalton and Judge Harold L. Paul.

Hold Prayer Vigil In Racial Protest

NEW YORK (AP)—The white minister of a predominantly Negro church has announced that more than 40 ministers and rabbis will leave here Wednesday to hold a prayer vigil for integration in Albany, Ga.

The Rev. Dr. Ralph Lord Roy, 33, who made the announcement from the pulpit of Grace Methodist Church Sunday, was one of a group of ministers who were turned away Aug. 12 when they tried to integrate several all-white churches in Albany.

The Methodist pastor told his congregation the pilgrimage will be made in response to a call from the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. to white and Negro ministers from all over the country to take part in the protest against segregation in Albany.

STATE PROBES TRAFFIC CODE DOWNGRADING

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Commonwealth will conduct a state-wide investigation to learn if local officials are downgrading traffic violations and withholding fines from the state.

Deputy Atty. Gen. Edward Friedman, who will direct the probe, said over the weekend that the Justice Department has heard of such practices in the state and "it's got to stop."

The investigation stems from the inquiry by two state departments into enforcement of traffic violations in Bethel Park Borough outside of Pittsburgh.

Following investigations by the revenue and auditor general's departments, Bethel Park officials were accused of downgrading violations to protect local motorists from state suspensions. The officials also were accused of diverting some $12,000 in fines from the state.

Investigators reported their inquiry showed motorists were arrested on a charge of "disorderly conduct" for violations that actually were more severe in nature—such as drunken driving, reckless driving, or driving while under suspension.

Friedman said the state's information was relayed to the Allegheny County district attorney's office, where subsequent action will be taken.

Bethel Park Mayor James C. Simmons, denied Sunday any knowledge that serious violators were not being reported to the State Traffic Safety Bureau.

He said staff officers in the borough's police department handled all the cases. Officers had been instructed to levy the lowest possible forfeits for first offenders, he added.

The state motor vehicle code specifies that local ordinances are subordinate to state ordinances covering the same violations.

As such, these violations require payment of fines to the state, along with a report to the State Traffic Safety Bureau.
